

In The Days When The Judges Ruled

Lesson 5

Deborah Judges Israel

Judg. 4-5

Introduction

After the first 3 stories of Israel's "deliverers," Judg. 4-5 contains the only story about a woman judge. God was able to use the strength of Deborah and the unwillingness of Barak to bring about relief from Canaanite oppression.

One might also say the "other woman" (Jael) was the real heroine of this account. Though her personality and station differed from Deborah's, they appeared to share a similar commitment to faithfulness to God.

- 1) What is recorded following Ehud's death? (4:1)

- 2) Who did God use next to oppress Israel? (4:2a) What had happened to this kingdom previously? (Josh. 11:1-13) What is noted that would have made Israel cry out for deliverance? (4:3)

- 3) Who is mentioned that God will begin using? (4:4-5) Thought question: do you think the selection of a woman says anything about the state of the people at this time?

- 4) What had God revealed to her, and who did she enlist to carry out God's instructions? (4:6-7)

- 5) What was Barak's response? (4:8) Why do you suppose he responded in this way? Is there any indication it was not a good response? (4:9)
